

Mt. Helix Associates Start $200,000 Building Project

Medical Center Offices, Stores to be Erected

Mt. Helix Associates, Inc., has started construction of the first unit of an extensive development in the Lemon Grove business district.

The first unit will be known as the Lemon Grove Medical Center and will provide very modern and efficient offices, not only for both the medical and dental professions, but also an especially designed office for an optometrist.

The architecture is of pleasing modern two-story construction designed to fully utilize sunlight in all of the operating and examining rooms.

Locating the building on the north side of Golden Avenue and east of the Piggly Wiggly Store provides accessibility and yet eliminates the hazardous traffic congestion which now exists on Broadway.

A private parking area will be provided for and will adjoin the Piggly Wiggly parking lot.

Plans for the second unit call for a group of ultra modern store buildings facing the private parking area, going through the block to Golden Avenue and joining the Medical Center.

The final program calls for a financial building to be erected on the remaining 100-foot frontage on Broadway.

Harry Griffen, a member of the firm of Mt. Helix Associates, had resided in San Diego for 40 years and in Lemon Grove for the past six years. Prior to coming here he resided in La Mesa for 10 years. During which time he was manager of the La Mesa Branch of Bank of America.

Mr. Griffen states that the complicated development will entail an investment of approximately $200,000, and which is evidence of the faith which he has in this area.

Lemon Grove is getting into the Christmas Spirit.

Hi, Neighbor

by Mae Rex Graham

We hear so many people say "It is difficult to get the Christmas Spirit at this time of year in California because we haven't the snow we are accustomed to in the East."

Taken from the commercial angle, then it is up to the merchants to create the urge for Christmas buying by decorating their stores and especially the windows in the Christmas motif and to do it lavishly.

Realizing the value of suggestion, the city of San Diego put out its decorations earlier than ever this year. Many of the neighboring communities have done likewise.

A few of our local shops have started decorating. The new Petite Shop has a brand new display window, done by its owners, that would be a credit to professional decorators.

Adjoining, the new Mode O' Day has also put on its holiday dress and is a credit to its owners.

The new Lane's Mens Wear opened its doors last Saturday with a beautiful Christmas window. When you window shop there, you'll want to go on in, too.

No doubt this week end will find the rest of our many shops and stores dressing up for the holidays.

So much for the commercial angle.

We like to feel that the true spirit of Christmas will prevail. That you will, above all else, be happy.

For to be happy, one must be giving happiness to others.

Looking, as we are, in the face of a third World War, we know that countless thousands in many lands will find Christmas only another day of suffering, of loneliness, of pain, of starvation and death!

So in a spirit of thankfulness may we dedicate our days preceding the Christmas season to making happiness wherever possible.

Not forgetting, here, in our own Lemon Grove the many wives and children and parents of boys in Korea, on the battle front.

Plan to make Christmas happier this year for them especially because we care, because we are grateful to them for the sacrifice they and their men are making for us and the world.

A royal reception was given by the people of this community to Lane's Mens Wear store upon its opening last Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Lane. An hour before 9 a. m., the time set for the opening people started calling at the store and a continuous stream of well wishers was going in and out all day.

The store was a veritable bower of flowers and plants sent in with congratulations and best wishes from local business people and other friends.

Mr. Lane said to a Review representative: "Mrs. Lane and I were overwhelmed by the reception we received. In all of our business experience we have never had nor have we ever seen such a demonstration of good will and friendship."

"We want to thank every one for their expressions of welcome and confidence in us. We will reciprocate by giving Lemon Grove the very best in values possible and to do every service we can to make this a better community in which to live and shop."

His condition was not considered serious until Saturday evening when Bobby was taken to the San Diego Hospital. A blood clot was removed Tuesday which has improved the condition.

Friends are requested not to call the hospital, but to call the Corle home, H-6-2881.

Bobby's brother, Tommy, 9 years old, stepped on a nail Monday afternoon causing a bad wound. He will be out of school this week.

School Trustees Explain Tax Rate as Guide to Voting Dec. 5

To all the residents of the Lemon Grove School District: We have been asked questions concerning the Lemon Grove School tax rate of $2.78.

This tax rate includes the Lemon Grove School District, the Grossmont School District, and the Junior College Districts. The total Lemon Grove School tax rate is not $2.78, as it appears on your statement, but $1.39. We thought you would be interested in knowing that this rate is 2c lower than it was in 1949. This drop in the Lemon Grove School tax rate was accomplished even though a $53,000 bond issue was voted last November 1949.

For this reason, we do not hesitate to tell you that the proposed bond election of December 5, 1950 should cause no increase in our tax rate.

Tax Rate Per $100 Assessed Valuation:

	1949	1950
Lemon Grove School District:
Elementary (Operation of Schools)	.90	.8985
Elementary (Bond Retirement)	.4483	.4360
Elementary (Retirement Fund Contribution)	.0671	.0633
SUB-TOTALS	1.4154	1.3978
High School (Operation of School)	.75	.75
High School (Bond Retirement)	.1421	.1350
High School (Retirement Fund Contribution)	.0225	.0256
Junior College (Operation of School)	.07	.0816

Chest Drive Passes Goal

Byron Netzel reports that the Community Chest fund has received $1,110.43 through the recent drive but that there is more to be turned in, which takes care of the goal, $1,100.

In 1948 Lemon Grove contributed $301; and in 1949 $415.

Another large amount should be added to the present fund by the apportioning of money paid into other funds by local men and women who are working in large establishments elsewhere.

Mr. Netzel, Rev. Dan Apra and G. R. Graham, who were in charge of the drive, wish to thank the 15 organizations, including the Business Women, who gave their services in canvassing the town.

Change Bus Stop on Imperial

Busses on Route "U" operating between La Mesa, Spring Valley and Lemon Grove and those on Route "E" operating between La Mesa and downtown San Diego, via Monterey Heights, now stop at the north side of Broadway on Imperial going out Imperial.

This stop change was made because of the heavily congested area on the opposite corner, making it safer for passengers to get on and off the busses.

IT'S A GIRL

A daughter, Sandra Kay, was born on November 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Vaisstad, 7536 San Miguel. She weighed 9 1/2 pounds. Sandra has a sister Beverly and two brothers, Ronald and Bernard.

We feel it is our duty to call to your attention that the $2.78 tax rate listed on your tax bill covers the total cost of operation and repayment of bonds in three school districts—Elementary, High School, and Junior College.

With the increasing number of children coming into our schools and the rising costs of all school services, we do not feel that a tax rate of $2.78 is exorbitant when you consider that it provides for the education of your children from Kindergarten through Junior College—Yours very truly, Board of Trustees, Lemon Grove School District, Vroman J. Dorman, Lawrence F. Herder, Harry Griffen.

For your information we have broken down the school taxes for the school year as follows:

Y's Men Hear Talk on Isms

Alfred Klieforth, of La Mesa, who recently retired from the U. S. diplomatic service addressed the Y's Men's Club Tuesday evening, covering communism and nazism.

"Until religion is rooted out of the people communism will never succeed," said the speaker.

Communism uses every device including education and leisure time activities to stamp out moral codes and ideals.

Communism is parasitic and lowers standards of living. Its leaders say that communism will take care of everything.

Speaking of Lenin, whom he had heard on many occasions, he commented on his magnetic personality in controlling people, many of whom could not hear his voice.

He stressed the responsibility of Americans to keep democratic institutions strong and well understood by the people in order to combat the inferior ideology of communism.

Sales of Christmas trees was discussed and an attempt will be made to take orders through advance sale of tickets.

OLD CARDS NEEDED

Those having old Christmas cards which they do not want to keep are asked to leave them at the library for Mrs. Randolph Morse, who puts them into scrap books for hospitals.

Call H-6-5676 if you live in the Monterey Heights area for transportation to the Monterey Heights School to vote next

Break Ground New Park Here

Ground was broken on Saturday for the Monterey Heights Community Park which consists of 15 lots.

Yale Combs furnished the full dozing equipment free of charge and Al Cassell of the Snack Shop and Harry Monell of Monell's Market were instrumental in getting other help.

Park commissioner Samaha had charge of the grading and Park Engineer Dafey set the grade.

The County will help to get water piped in soon, when grass and trees will be planted, benches installed and barbecue pits dug.

Plans are made for different groups to be responsible for the upkeep of certain parts of the park.

The Monterey Heights Civic League will soon start a drive for funds. The present need is for laborers. Those willing to help are asked to call Mr. Samaha at H-6-3622. Every Saturday is work day in the park at 10 a. m.

There will be no Christmas party this year.

The next meeting of the League will be next Tuesday evening in Monterey Heights School.

Jeanette Vaughn with Philharmonic

Mrs. Kenneth F. (Jeanette) Vaughn, 8540 Troy, has been employed as secretary of the San Diego Philharmonic Society and made a member of its Executive Board.

Mrs. Vaughn is the efficient secretary of Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce and still carries on her duties. She is in the Chamber office, 3440 Main every Wednesday morning until noon.

Following the opening performance of the Philharmonic Orchestra Tuesday evening, Percy de Long, president of the orchestra and Mrs. Long, Mrs. A. Morle Garber, chairman of the Lemon Grove Women's Committee, and Mr. Garber and Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn were guests at a reception honoring the conductor, Dr. Leslie Hodge, and Mrs. Hodge in the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Ray Stevenson of San Diego.

Enrollment Will be 3,200 in 1951

Half-day sessions confront over 3,200 Grossmont high school students in September, 1951. When this year's Senior class of 500 graduate, they will be replaced by over 900 entering freshmen. Such an increase makes it impossible to provide a full day of school for the students of this district, announced District Superintendent Lewis F. Smith today.

A prompt return to a full program of education sometime during the first semester will be possible if voters approve bonds at the election set for December 5. This approval will make state funds available which will permit immediate construction of the classrooms needed to resume the full-time program.

The State Loan Fund was established to aid local districts in which great population increases have made it impossible to find.

C of C Protests New County Ordinance

The Board of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting last Friday evening drafted a letter of protest to the San Diego County Board of Supervisors, opposing the passage of the proposed new ordinance which would require the use of cast iron pipe in sewer laterals.

A storm of protest has arisen all over San Diego County since the exclusive publication in the Lemon Grove Review last week of the proposed change in the existing ordinance.

The Northern San Diego County Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as opposed to the change, and individual protests have been pouring in to this newspaper, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Board of Supervisors.

The hearing on the proposed change comes up in the Board room, 308 Civic Center Building, next Monday at 2:15.

Jackson Ammons, vice-president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, urges everyone interested to get to the meeting early.

All men who are interested and have had previous experience, should contact Mr. Mulkey either by mail or calling H-6-0340.

Arrival of the 500 gallon pumper truck is expected sometime in December, and the Commissioner stated that he wanted the department all set up ready to go when the truck is accepted by the district.

The men accepted will be taken from those applicants best qualified and most efficient, he said.

This is a good opportunity for young men who have had experience in organized fire fighting.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING TIME

Traditionally, the intensive Christmas shopping period opens this week—with the Thanksgiving holidays behind us and Christmas Day, less than a month ahead, suddenly looming large on the calendar.

Traditionally, too, Americans by the millions, put off the inevitable buying chore until the last possible day, or even hour—forgetting or at least ignoring the memory of that awful, jostling, crowding, nerve-shattering Johnny-Come-Lately experience of last year (which they swore they'd never procrastinate themselves into again!).

Surely, this year, there is every inducement for all of us to get our Christmas shopping started and finished early—the easy, leisurely, pleasant way—and so enjoy the holiday season to the full. Never in memory have the gift stocks in all stores been more plentiful or varied (Shades of the war years—when there was so little to choose from, and largely ersatz stuff at that!).

Shortages may loom ahead for the next year and perhaps for years to come—but not for this Christmas! Christmas goods are manufactured months ahead of time, for the most part, so there was no thought of curtailment of metals or other materials for civilian goods when manufacturers and merchants were preparing for Christmas, 1950.

Our own merchants are advertising everything that you could find in the biggest stores in the biggest cities of the country, and generally at considerably lower prices, since it costs more money in overhead to do business in high-rent metropolitan areas. So let's all save money and show money to our nervous systems by shopping early and at home—and thereby, for this year of 1950, escape those "never again" regrets!

THE WASHINGTON MENACE

Some cold facts and plain talk in this week's news may cause the thinking citizen to wonder whether the gravest danger to the security of this Nation exists in Washington, D.C., rather than in Moscow.

Already—with the expressed intent of curbing inflation—the federal government has sharply curbed consumer credit, making it difficult for most citizens to go into debt for new homes, cars, washing machines etc. But on the other hand reports the U.S. Commerce Department, the federal government this year has gone more deeply into debt than all the private businesses and individuals put together!

The federal "total net debt" is put at $118 billion dollars, while the total net private debt of the American people is 205 billions. Declaring it absolutely essential that government curb waste and extravagance if this Nation is to remain strong, R. C. Leffingwell, an official of J. P. Morgan & Co., made this assertion: "We must prove that the needs of a death are not, as Russia's rulers say, in our American enterprise system . . . but that life and growth and health are here. To do this we must defend with utmost zeal our currency and our free economy, while we strengthen our military defense. But not much effort has been made yet by our government to control itself and its spending. "Let government ration itself . . . Fiscal and credit controls and price controls will not suffice. If the effective demand for goods and services, and the government's demand is always effective—exceeds the supply, inflation is inevitable. We cannot long consume more than we produce. If we try to, the swollen river of inflation will flow to the sea, and the dams erected to the specifications of the Treasury or the Federal Reserve or the price and wage fixers will be washed out."

If that should be permitted to happen, Stalin wouldn't need to fight America to bring us to ruin. The seeds of our national death would have come to flower in our own capital.

NO DILLY-DALLYING!

Up to this point in history, there has been no escaping a horror of anticipation that must come to all men—a fear that freezes the marrow in heroes' bones and turns craven the heart of the valiant: the dread of the dentist's drill.

But emancipation is at hand, and all who have teeth to be filled may take heart, according to developments at the annual meeting of 1,000 dentist alumni of the S. F. College of Physicians and Surgeons school of dentistry, just closed.

Dentists Sidney Epstein and Harry A. True demonstrated a new "ardent" technique, involving use of a just-developed drilling instrument which operates on the sand-blast theory, and cuts tooth structure by shooting a stream of abrasives from a pencil-sized nozzle. The drill is painless, it was explained—and happily proved on courageous volunteers—because it eliminates the heat created by the standard rotary drill, and it is the heat that induces agony.

Of immediate interest to every citizen with a warning twinge in a molar is this: The school will open a post-graduate course in dentistry right after the first of the year. Fine! He yourself up there for that course, doctor—and don't spare the horses!

Political Parade

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

Who will it be in '52?

Assuming that the Democrats will stick with Harry Truman, still the champ, one of four Republicans undoubtedly will be the challenger—Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Pennsylvania's Governor and Senator-Elect James H. Duff, or California's own Governor Earl Warren.

One other man enters the picture, not as a candidate, but as a power to be reckoned with at the GOP national convention, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Who will it be? Already all five and/or their supporters, are pulling strings and rigging every trick in the book to see that the answer goes their way, whichever way that may be.

Early odds must favor the indomitable Robert A. Taft as the Republican nominee. Taft is Mr. Republican, himself. In his recent re-election campaign he took on all comers and licked them to a fare-thee-well.

Chief threat to Taft could be General Dwight D. Eisenhower. It is the Eisenhower picture that Governor Dewey appears. No sooner had Dewey cinched his own re-election than he called a caucus of New York Republicans and put them on record for Eisenhower. The genial Ike, however, probably stands little chance of ever going to the post.

President Truman, no slouch as a politician, undoubtedly will appoint Eisenhower Supreme Commander of Western Europe's United Defense Command—thus taking care of one rival.

Senator-Elect Duff, Pennsylvania's favorite son, has more chance as a compromise candidate than he does for taking the nomination straightaway. The hardhitting Duff, reportedly less to the left than California's Warren and less to the right than Ohio's Taft, is in a strategic spot at this early stage.

California's entry in the presidential elimination bouts, Governor Earl Warren, in the final analysis, probably is the man who will go into the semi-finals with Senator Taft, fresh from a gubernatorial victory over James Roosevelt. Warren has recouped a great deal of the prestige he lost in going down for the count with Dewey in the 1948 brannigan.

While the Warren victory ranks just a shade less spectacular in nature than Taft's, California's hopeful must contend with the fact that Senate Republican leaders are on record as being more than a little provoked that Warren refused their request to support Richard Nixon in his vital senatorial campaign. Taft, they pointed out, supported the Republican candidate for Governor in Ohio even though it jeopardized his chances and the Democratic candidate was friendly to him.

That's the line-up for 1952—in November 1950. When the sparring is all said and done, it is anybody's guess still.

Sparks

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT JAMES DORAIS

With the sale of each new television set, frozen food locker, electric blanket, neon sign, automatic washing machine and a host of other products that operate with the flick of a switch, the demand for electric power increases.

Will the supply of power keep up with this normal every-day increase in demand, augmented as it is by increased industrial use due to stepped-up defense production?

According to Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, it won't—unless the government steps in to save the day. "In my opinion," Mr. Chapman recently announced, "the presently planned expansion of the private electric utilities companies will be sufficient to meet prospective demands."

The Secretary has acted on his opinion by creating a brand new bureau within his Department called the Defense Power Administration. DPA has been given emergency powers to cope with allocations of electric energy and disposition of new generating equipment. The extent of those powers haven't been publicly announced, doubtless because of security regulations.

But Secretary Chapman, whose Bureau of Reclamation has been accused of a burning desire to claim and dam every stream in the land in the name of the Department of Interior, probably has an axe to grind.

Impartial statistics indicate that the private power industry is doing a very creditable job of keeping well ahead of demand. Electric output for the last week in October set a new record, nearly 21 per cent greater than the output for the same week the year before.

The reserve margin, which is the percentage of capacity above peak demand, has been boosted to about 14 per cent, which is more than twice the reserve existing a year ago.

Actually, with the exception of the depression period, the private power industry has doubled its generating capacity every decade. That process of expansion is still continuing, with projects costing 6 billion dollars scheduled for the two year period of 1950 and 1951.

For the foreseeable future, there seems little ground for Secretary Chapman's pessimism. The only hurdle in the path of fulfillment of present expansion plans is the possibility of shortage of supplies of generating equipment. Such a shortage, of course, would be an artificial one. It could be created by the Secretary's new allocations bureau, if it chose to allocate the equipment for public power expansion rather than private.

Doubtless the Department of Power Administration has no intention of discriminating against private enterprise for the benefit of its brother agency, the Bureau of Reclamation. But the trouble with emergency powers is that they also include the power to create emergencies.

After repeated runaway attempts, 10 year old Katherine has promised "never again." The cause for her "visitations" has been removed.

Katherine's mother explains: "Blame for my daughter's discontent with her home-life rests squarely on my shoulders. I confess, that for some time past, my nervous and constantly tired condition, resulted in impatience with my family and indifference to my household."

"However, now that is all a thing of the past, thank Heaven. Now, as so many doctors advise, I am on a regular schedule of N-R-G (Energy) brand Vitamins . . . and I feel better today than in many years."

Do you suffer from lack of energy, from sleepless nights, lack of appetite and that "all gone" feeling? . . . then, see your friendly HAZILIP'S pharmacist and discover for yourself how—far less than the price of a pack of cigarettes per day—you, too, can enjoy life through the remarkable, resistance-building benefits of N-R-G brand vitamins. ### Trophies Awarded Local School

Members of the Lemon Grove School music department are the proud possessors of two trophies, awarded for the fine work done by the students in the recent Mother Goose Parade at El Cajon. One trophy was given to the school band and one to the majorette corps. Both are under the direction of Paul Cheatham.

Lemon Grove Teacher in College Discussion

Lemon Grove Junior High participated in a round-table discussion at State College on Tuesday, when cadet art teachers and art teachers of the college art department, acted as moderators. Classroom discipline, its problems and recommendations were topics for the afternoon meeting.

In observation of "Book Week," Mrs. Holmes' fourth grade at Monterey Heights School presented a short, fanciful play which depicted books as doors opening to exciting adventures, strange lands and interesting people.

The cast included Karol Rife as Merilee, Robert Foster as the Fairy King, Janice Torgerson as Iris, Patricia Gould as Isabelle, Frances Wheeler as Patsy, Donald Turner as Lord Chancellor, Dianne Hagen as the Nurse, and John Hale and Gary Baumgartner as guards.

Oral reports were also given by the children on "The Books We Like Best." Much interest was stimulated and a new eagerness to draw books from the library became apparent.

Members of the seventh grade art classes of Miss Robbins at the Lemon Grove Junior High were privileged to visit the County Service Center in San Diego on Saturday, November 18. The boys and girls made pottery in school under Miss Robbins' direction, and the trip to the center was for the purpose of glazing and firing their articles. Each student glazed the pieces of pottery which he had constructed and then was permitted to inspect the kiln. Pictures were taken of members of the group. Then they were conducted through the entire service, visiting the labs. The school bus provided transportation for the classes.

John van Gilse will be host Saturday afternoon to the following safety patrol boys at the Grove Theater: Kenneth Hill, Richard Day, John Cornelius, Donald Newton, Lorenzo Alvarez, Robert Davis, Buddy Dwiln,

Jay Fuller, and Vernon Mayes. Local Administrators Meet at Grossmont

Lewis Smith presided at a meeting of the San Diego County School Administrators Association at Grossmont High School last Tuesday evening, where the topic for discussion concerned administrative improvement of the curriculum through community relations.

Mrs. Helen Netzel, president of the Mt. Helix Council, P. T. A., reported on the 3R study project recently prepared by the National organization. Local groups interested in developing this program should consult Burton Tiffany of the County Office.

Mrs. Kinsley, C. T. A. field representative, and the evening's speaker, discussed the various phases in promoting school bond elections.

Other reports included those by Dave Barnes of the County Guidance and Attendance Department, Darsie Anderson, and Jerry Sprung.

Supt. B. L. Netzel, S. K. Solleder, Mrs. Evelyn Lauritzen, Ben Schei, and Arthur Thomas attended from the Lemon Grove District.

High School News

H. G. Hughes, Assistant Superintendent, and Mr. Benton Hart, Vice-Principal, of Grossmont Union High School spoke at recent Parent-Teachers Association meetings.

Mr. Hughes addressed the Lakeside Union Grammar School and Mr. Hart spoke at the Spring Valley School. They both urged the support of the schools on the bond issue, December 5.

Be sure to vote "Yes" for the students of the elementary schools and the Grossmont Union High School District in the December 5th election. Don't let them be deprived of proper schooling. This will happen unless more classroom space is provided immediately!

Grossmont Union High School is the only school in San Diego County to have a cut-away car. This automobile is used in the Drivers' Education classes.

The purpose of this cut-away model is to show the complete working mechanism of the entire automobile.

The important sections of the unit are painted different colors to designate between them.

The model, a '39 Buick four-door sedan, was purchased at a used car lot for $75 and rebuilt at a total cost of $290. General Motors sells a similar model for approximately $10,000.

Several county authorities and driving instructors have inspected it from headlights to bumper and found it to be of great value in automotive instruction, especially in the field of drivers' education.

On the Drivers' Education staff at Grossmont are: Mr. Van Netel, department head; Mr. Kerr, classroom instructor; and Mr. Zook, behind-the-wheel instructor.

St. John of the Cross School News

SOUTHERN AREA 4-H ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

Approximately 200 4-H Club members, leaders, and parents attended the annual Southern Area 4-H Achievement program, held at the Vista La Mesa Youth Center November 16.

Van Marshall, La Mesa banker, representing the California Bankers Association, awarded the Achievement pins to 4-H leaders and to 4-H Club members who had completed their projects for the current year.

Refreshments were served by the Farm Bureau Home Department.

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB COMMITTEE WORK

California 4-H Club members for the first time are represented at the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago this year, November 26-30. This Congress is sponsored by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Farm Advisor Dan Close, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, explains what the committee is by saying that 10 years ago only a handful of industrial concerns were supporting 4-H Club work nationally. Today—through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work—nearly 50 industries, businessmen and women are backing up their faith in two million 4-H Club members with incentives valued at $400,000 annually. This amount is distributed for awards and leader training funds in 4-H programs which range from canning to tractor maintenance.

"The money is considered a sound investment in the nation's future by encouraging these rural boys and girls who have pledged their head, heart, hands and health to make the best better," declared Guy L. Noble, director of the National 4-H Committee, a non-profit citizens group.

"4-H youth learn by doing," he stated, "and guiding their efforts are 225,000 volunteer club leaders who work under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural colleges to carry out the 4-H program objectives." The teen-agers do a man-sized job in their projects, according to Noble, and by the time they reach 21 many are well on the way to becoming independent farmers, while others have substantial bank accounts.

MANAGING HENS IN CAGES

Keeping laying birds in cages, a relatively new development in California's poultry industry, does not furnish any magic substitute for good stock and management. So points out Farm Advisor Robert H. Adolph, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

This system of management does help many poultrymen in simplifying their sanitation and culling, and aids in reducing losses from coccidiosis and round worms.

Hen cages originally housed only one bird. Floor dimensions were 12 inches deep by 18 inches high. Today, however, some poultrymen place two birds in such cages. Other operators house one bird per cage but reduce cage width to 10 or even 8 inches.

Some precautions for the poultryman to consider include purchasing day-old chicks for replacement rather than "started chicks" or older birds which may be disease spreaders. Buy feed in bulk whenever possible, since second-hand feed sacks can spread disease. Rats, mice, mosquitoes, and wild birds need to be controlled to help halt the spread of diseases and parasites from ranch to ranch.

FEEDING MILK GOATS

With milk goats, it is economical to feed high-producing does in accordance with their production. So points out Farm Advisor Fred W. Dorman, of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

Some general suggestions are that except for does that are being fitted for kidding, those producing less than one quart of milk daily will be able to secure all the nutrients they need from a good quality of roughage alone. Those producing more than one quart daily should receive in addition to their roughage, a quart measure of concentrate feed for each 4 pints of milk produced daily. Half of this needs to be fed in the morning and half in the evening.

Pregnant does should have a dry period of one month previous to kidding, during which time they need all the roughage they will consume. They should also have sufficient concentrates so that they will be in good physical condition by the time of their next freshening.

A general rule is to determine the rate of concentrate feeding by the condition of the animals and the amount and quality of the roughage.

TREFOIL GAINS IN POPULARITY

On soils too salty for ladino, narrow leaf trefoil is becoming a most popular plant for irrigated pastures, according to M. L. Peterson, of the agronomy division of the University of the California College of Agriculture.

In a comparison of trefoil and ladino—made in Solano County on alkaline soils—where trefoil is being widely used—feed in 6 lambs gained 650 pounds on the trefoil and 584 on the clover. Average daily gains, however, were approximately the same on both plantings.

MORE HEAT REQUIRED FOR BABY CHICKS

Plenty of heat is needed for brooding chicks during fall and winter weather. Robert H. Adolph, Farm Advisor of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, cautioned poultrymen that chicks brooded during cold weather need extra heat.

Brooding boxes should be well insulated. Baby chicks will do best when they can run under the brooder to get warm quick. Daytime temperatures should be maintained high enough to force chicks outside to eat and drink, and when chicks get cool, they can run in under the brooder to get warm quickly.

Adolph points out that poultrymen experience more difficulties from improper brooding during fall and winter months than at any other time of the year. Watch chicks closely. If the chicks are not getting enough heat, they will huddle and crowd. A properly placed thermometer may be used to advantage, but Adolph cautions that the actions of the chicks themselves should be the best guide.

Further information on brooding chicks may be obtained by writing or calling the Farm Advisor's Office, 4005 Rosecrans Street, San Diego 10, California, Woodcrest 3166.

With her gown of white candlelight satin embellished with lace and pearls the bride wore a fingertip veil caught with clusters of pearled orange blossoms. She carried a mother-of-pearl prayer book, a gift from her bridegroom, topped with a white orchid.

Enrollment Will be 3,200 in 1951

nance school construction with local resources.

The local bonds which must be voted to qualify for acceptance of state funds will not increase the local tax rate because of a reduction in the interest charges on last year's bonds and because of the increase in assessed valuation of the district.

With more new homes being built in the district and with more children below school age then are now enrolled in grades 1 through 10 we need more elementary and more high school classrooms if we are to avoid the blighting effects of half-day sessions and the rationing of education, Smith stated.

Citizens interested in the welfare of our community and our nation are urged to study this matter carefully and vote on Tuesday, December 5.

Religion must be used. That is what it's here for. Not to be petted, and cuddled, and adorned, and worshipped for its own sake, but to be used for the fulfillment of man's destiny upon the earth.—Rev. John H. Holmes.

There are those who look askance at recreational services. To them we can only say: Is there any investment quite so sound as the conservation of our human resources through more adequate outdoor recreation?—Thomas E. Dewey.

Local School to be Represented

The members of the Sodality of Our Lady of Salima of St. John of the Cross school will be represented among the 1,000 boys and girls from Catholic elementary and secondary schools in San Diego who will observe Sodality Day on December 8, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary, by participating in a Solemn Pontifical Mass to be celebrated in St. Joseph's Cathedral in San Diego by the most Reverend Charles F. Euddy, D.D., Ph.D., Bishop of San Diego, at 9:30 a.m.

A choir of 375 girls from local Catholic high schools will sing the majestic chants of the Mass. Breviary by Montani under the direction of Father J. Vincent Sullivan, Director of Music at Immaculate Heart and St. Francis Seminaries. The proper of the mass will be sung in Gregorian plain chant. The Ave Maria by Montani will be sung at the offertory and the Magnificat solemnly chanted in a special dedicatory ceremony.

The sermon for the occasion will be delivered by Father James Ludwig, Professor of Sacred Scripture at Immaculate Heart Seminary.

Before the solemn recessional the Most Reverend Bishop will lead all youth present in the public renewal of the Pledge of the Legion of Decency directed against immoral motion pictures.

Road Chief Urges Boundary Changes

County boundary commissions should pass on all territorial annexations to cities in order to keep down highway maintenance costs, J. H. Mack, road commissioner, said yesterday.

"Where annexations surround an island of county territory, road and street maintenance inside the island is expensive because workmen and equipment must be transported there," he declared.

"Common practice seems to favor placing boundary lines in the center of an existing street or road," the commissioner continued. "This means the city and the county each will maintain one-half of the street, which is expensive for both agencies. It would be much better to have the boundary follow rear lot-lines."

Mack recommends that county supervisors sponsor legislation to eliminate the expense he outlined.

We cannot turn the clock back to unmake the conditions which have given rise to twentieth-century inherited prejudices, but we can refuse to accept the false notion that hate or fear of each other is an inevitable trait of human nature.—Mildred Horton.

Propose One Large Sanitation District

The San Diego County Planning Commission last week went on record as favoring studies of a possible metropolitan San Diego sanitation district.

"We are receiving plans for so many sanitation districts which would operate small, scattered plants that we fear a serious pollution problem may arise," explained Dr. Willis H. Miller, planning director.

"Establishment of a metropolitan district is possible under existing law," Miller said. "It is a procedure which works in other parts of California, and there seems to be no reason why it would not work in San Diego County."

Problem Regional

"Like water supply, sewage disposal is a regional problem, which can be adequately solved only by regional action. The political boundaries of incorporated cities and closely built-up unincorporated areas in metropolitan San Diego have little reality when it comes to sewage disposal."

Convinced that a metropolitan sanitation district is the only way to prevent serious pollution problems, Miller reported that a single district serving this section would have four advantages:

- 1—Proper sewage facilities would be made available to all parts of the metropolitan area.
- 2—Pollution would be held at minimum.

Reasons Offered

- 3—Large scale operation would permit maximum sewage treatment at minimum cost.
- 4—Every householder would pay his fair share of the cost.

"Nobody would get a free ride and nobody would pay more than his neighbor for the same service."

At this stage, the recommendation of a metropolitan sanitation district actually is little more than a declaration of policy, Miller agreed, but he added that he hopes it will serve as an invitation to the State Water Pollution Board to "get the ball rolling here."

Patriotism is easy to understand in America. It means looking out for yourself by looking out for your country.—Calvin Coolidge.

Agate Hunters on Holiday Prowl

Agate hunters from the Tourmaline Gem and Mineral Society took advantage of the Thanksgiving holiday to travel over 200 miles to hunt specimens. They camped near Rainbow Canyon, north of Twenty Nine Palms, and enjoyed dry, sunny weather but shivery nights. The agate was in such abundance that some of the rockhounds brought home two sacks of material. Green moss agate was especially prized. Jasper also was abundant.

Members of the local mineral society making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Manley and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gray. Also included in the group were Vern Harshman of the San Diego society, his son George, and Raymond Smith of Hanford.

The trip to Twenty Nine Palms was so satisfactory that the Tourmaline Gem and Mineral Society is planning to invite all the other San Diego County mineral societies to join them in a three-day field trip to the same locality over the New Year's vacation.

The next meeting of the club will not be on the regular meeting date, but will be held at some time during the field trip.

Jack Vermillion, federation director of the Tourmaline Gem and Mineral Society, attended the meeting of the Board of Directors of the California Federation of Mineralogical Societies, Inc. at Bakersfield on November 12. Chief among the interesting news he had to report was that in 1953 the convention of mineralogical societies will be held in San Diego.

Christian Science Lecture Dec. 1

"Christian Science: The Science of Pure Christianity," is the title of the free lecture on Christian Science to be given at the Church Edifice, 8258 Allison Avenue, La Mesa, Friday Evening, December 1, at 8 o'clock.

Florence Middaugh, C.S.B., the lecturer, comes from Los Angeles and is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

In arranging for the lecture, the members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of La Mesa, believe they are providing a means for reaching many people with answers to frequent questions about Christian Science—what it teaches, how it heals, why thousands have become its adherents. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Wiring Forms Being Prepared

The County Building Inspection Division is preparing a check sheet for householders in unincorporated areas who want to do their own electric wiring. It was announced yesterday.

It will include information on the 20 items which most frequently fail to pass electrical inspection, said.

"Too many owners are depending on inspectors to virtually do the job for them," Charley H. Salyers, division chief, observed. "We hope this will be eliminated by issuing the check sheet."

Many persons, attempting wiring jobs without knowing the principles of electricity, are finding they would have saved money by hiring someone with experience, Salyers said.

We must not let science hypnotize us into believing that simply by sitting in front of desks and drawing boards and instruments all day, we are contributing to the character of man.—Charles A. Lindbergh.

Professional Blind Man Plays The Game to the Very Finish

By BILLY ROSE

Last night, in a mood for malt and malarkey, I stopped in to chin with Sammy Fuchs, proprietor of the Bowery Follies and honorary mayor of that unwashed neck of the Manhattan woods.

"What's new and gruesome in your ballwick?" I asked mine host. "Nothing much," said Sammy, "except that Facker Kennedy died last week and left his eyes to a bartender down the block."

"Come again?" I said. According to Sammy, the Facker was a professional blind man who had been rattling a tin cup on the Bowery for as long as he could remember. In spite of his calling, however, it was a standing joke around the flophouses that the con-topper could shoot off a bug's ear at a hundred paces.

"We used to kid Kennedy about his blindness," said a kid Sammy, "but he never let it was an act. And we were never sure because no one ever saw the old coot without his smoked glasses."

"Down at Gargan's Bar where the Facker used to hang out after hours," Sammy continued, "the proprietor had a kind of running gag at the bum's expense."

"When you die, he used to say, 'I'll leave 'em to ya, Gargan, 'til me your eyes. Mine are getting pretty tired from lookin' at the sawdust.'"

"I'll leave 'em to ya, Gargan," was the Facker's stock answer. "And they'll come in handy if ya ever want to play marbles."

"That's about how the talk went until one night not long ago when a couple of stick-up-men walked into Gargan's and lined the customers up against the wall—all except the Facker who didn't budge from his usual place at the end of the bar."

"After the punks had cleaned out the register and what little was in the customers' pockets, one of them walked up to the Facker and jabbed a gun in his ribs."

"You wouldn't take pennies from a blind man, would ya?" said Kennedy.

"Don't gimme that pennies

stuff," said the thug. "You guys always got a roll on ya."

"The Facker made out as if he was fumbling in his pockets, and then suddenly made a grab for the gun, yanked it away from the hood and bopped him over the head with it. Then, using the body as a sort of shield, he pointed the gun at the other punk."

"Drop yer pistol," he said, "or I'll shoot the cigar outta yer mouth." "Well, it so happened the thug did have a cigar in his mouth, and when he heard the blind man's on-the-button reference to it he got panicky and dropped his gun. A dozen guys jumped him, and a few minutes later he and his pal were in the precinct house."

"After that, of course, everybody on the Bowery was sure the Facker was a fake, but he never owned up. They got me all wrong," he once told me. "The stick-up guy was smokin' an Italian stogie and ya can smell them things a block away. And I guessed it was in his mouth by the way he talked."

"A couple of weeks ago," Sammy went on, "Facker Kennedy got pneumonia, and the day after his body was carried off to Potter's Field a package showed up in Gargan's mail with a pair of glass eyes."

"Sounds like the old man was telling the truth after all," I said. "Nobody is convinced, one way or the other," said the Mayor of the Bowery. "Maybe the eyes came out of the Facker's head, and then again maybe he picked them up in a hook-shop. You know, you never can tell about these cuckoo—he might have wanted to play the gag out to the end."
